

Alberto Amura, M.S.M. is originally from Argentina. Before dedicating full time to his Integrated Energy Healing practice he worked in the fields of education, industrial chemistry, and environmental technologies and design. His formal instruction includes a Professorship in Natural Sciences with specialization in Biology, studies on industrial chemistry, psychology in education and fine arts. Besides his intuitive energy healing skills that became noticeable early in his life, he holds a Master of Science in Metaphysics, a certification on Biogeometry®, which is a science of Space Energy Balancing developed by Egyptian Architect Dr. Ibrahim Karim of Cairo, and a certification on Past Life Regression Therapy from the internationally renowned hypnotherapist Dolores Canon. He also trained with shamans and healers during his 9 years in Taos, New Mexico. In addition to his practice as a professional radiesthesist specialized on the identification and neutralization of adverse subtle energies in living and working spaces, he is also a certified Reiki Master practitioner. As an instructor and speaker he leads retreats and workshops on healing, dowsing, spirituality and metaphysics. He is a former member of the faculty at the University of New Mexico Holistic Health and Human Services Program, Taos Campus, where he introduced students to the scientific bridge between physics and metaphysics.

Health and the Effect of Subtle Environmental Factors

Medical doctors and therapists around the world now confirm that any Geopathic Stress (GS) must be cleared before a treatment can be 100% successful. It was proved to the satisfaction of the medical profession over 60 years ago, and in millions of cases ever since, that Geopathic Stress is a common factor in most serious and chronic illnesses including chronic fatigue. It is also been found to be a common factor in numerous minor complaints, together with insomnia, restless sleep, anxiety, depression and other nervous conditions.

Environmental Healing

HOME, OFFICE & LAND CLEARING
to Create a Healthy, Balanced, & Harmonious Environment

Improve the well-being of your life, your family, and pets, the appeal of a rental or house sale, and the ambiance and success of your business, by clearing your environment from detrimental energies and increasing the level and flow of the beneficial ones.

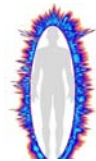

Geopathic Stress: Abnormal magnetic fields produced by underground streams, tectonic-plate stress along fault lines in the earth, underground crystalline deposits, and other less understood factors may all contribute to the phenomenon of geopathic stress. “Most people are unaware of this type of invisible energy pollution. While many might be surprised by the link between hidden environmental-energy stress and disease, the idea that a person’s environment could be capable of producing energetic effects on health and well-being is actually a very old concept.” Richard Gerber, M.D. from his book A Practical Guide to Vibrational Medicine.

The Influence of Thoughts and Emotions: In 1948 Psychiatrist Dr. Leonard Ravitz, working with Yale Professor of Anatomy Harold Saxton Burr, observed that thought (Thought-fields) had a measurable influence of control on the Living-fields, and that thought can change and override physical reality. Later research showed that Thought-fields can attach not only to living organisms, but also to crystallized forms of energy or matter. An object imprinted with an emotionally charged Thought-field could influence the environment where it is placed.

Factors covered: Some of the factors covered are: geopathic stress zones (noxious radiations created by geological or man-made disturbances), altered Earth energies, ley lines, underground water veins, adverse Curry Line crossings, EMF, TF (crystallized emotional/-thought fields), disturbed elementals, foul energy areas, psychic disturbances, entities and their emotional imprints, and adverse emanations from objects such as furniture, photographs, art, and antique pieces. Alberto also provides evaluation of Chi’s flow in spaces and probes subtle energy structures such as pyramids, domes, labyrinths, fountains, and shrines. Both humans and animals are benefitted by clearing the land or building.

Alberto’s technique: Through research and field experience, Alberto Amura developed a unique and effective technique to localize, analyze, and clear, subtle energy radiations and noxious fields that might be present in living and working spaces. Alberto’s method of integrated radiesthesia has the advantage of a complete, thorough and systematic analysis of land and buildings to detect and neutralize noxious energies and clear blockages originated from physical and subtle causes. By the use of radiesthesia tools, map and onsite dowsing techniques, and with the added benefit of his intuitive skills, Alberto scans the space to localize and evaluate subtle energy fields emanating from the environment. He combines the use of Biogeometry®, which is a technique of space healing developed by the Egyptian architect Dr. Ibrahim Karim, with advanced radiesthesia methods. Alberto also uses his unique copper elements and activated stones, along with metal stakes, color patches, and crystals to clear adverse energies and enhance or create beneficial ones.

Basic Procedure: Prior to an on-site visit, Alberto remotely scans the plan or hand-sketch of the property to detect and localize both noxious and beneficial factors. After completing the scanning and analysis of the property on the plan, he proceeds to neutralize each one of the adverse elements by the use of a specific marking technique. After completing the preliminary healing of the property on the plan, he then proceeds to complete the on-site work. Alberto also looks for positive energy centers, which can be projected to specific areas of the property through the creation of ley lines (he has developed a simple and effective technique for this purpose). In addition to the space clearing service, Alberto provides individual healing sessions for the occupants after the clearing has been completed.

Fees are based on a sliding scale determined by size, use, and type of property. Please call for more information.

“...I have referred Alberto Amura to countless friends and clients in the Southern California area and I always hear amazing, satisfied comments from people. I have also referred Alberto to several resorts and spas for energetic space clearing with excellent results. Alberto is truly a treasure who makes a lasting, positive difference in everyone’s lives.” Rita Connor, President, Elite Resorts & Spas - CA-USA

“...This was an eye-opening experience. Working both remotely and on-site, Alberto identified hidden energy pathways that contained both positive sources of light and power as well as negative blockages and points of energetic stagnation. All were treated, and in the ensuing weeks literally everything on and in the property perked up. Even the plant life. We are all humming and thriving! SM- CA- USA
